Interest-Based Assumptions

- Bargaining can ENHANCE relationships
- Both parties must BE SUCCESSFUL
- Parties must HELP each other win
- STANDARDS must replace power when selecting solutions
- Parties must SHARE interest information

Michael J Wolf

Federal Labor Relations Authority
 Director, Collaboration and ADR Office
 ULP Settlement Official, Office of ALJs
mwolf@flra.gov

At the FLRA, Michael Wolf leads the Authority's ADR program and serves as its principal ADR practitioner. He helps federal agencies and unions prevent, manage, and resolve unfair labor practice litigation, negotiability petitions, arbitration exceptions, and other complex, significant, sensitive institutional workplace disputes. Wolf and his team also provide facilitation, training, and guidance to improve organizational effectiveness, quality of work life, engagement, and healthy, conflict-competent workplace culture.

Michael has held leadership roles in the Association for Conflict Resolution, the ABA, state bar associations, and the Steering Committee of the Federal Interagency ADR Working Group. In addition to his current role at FLRA, Michael teaches the graduate LMR course at Catholic University of America's Metropolitan School. He has been adjunct faculty at Pepperdine University Law School's Strauss Institute for Dispute Resolution, University of Baltimore, and a guest instructor at other universities. Michael's 10th publication, a chapter about Online Dispute Resolution and Negotiation, appears in the 2nd edition of Online Dispute Resolution: Theory and Practice: A Treatise on Technology and Dispute Resolution.
